We Live and Let Live.

Do not fail to hear Dr. Locke's lecture Friday night. It is free!

If you have a horse to sell bring him to town next Tuesday as Mr. W. E. Cody, of Columbus, Ga. will be here and pay you the highest market price for him.

Joins Ranks Of Automobilists.

Mr. John E. Anderson the well known farmer and miller of the Point Leavelle section, has joined the ranks of the automobilists and has purchased a handsome new "Ford" touring car.

Easter Flowers In Profusion.

Easter lilies, roses, carnations, violets and other hothouse products were in the hands of all of the Lancaster girls Saturday and Sunday. Although Easter was early we never saw more beautiful flowers.

Prisoners Sent To Pen.

Sheriff C. A. Robinson on last Friday took Othel East and John Simpson to the Frankfort penitentiary, where they will serve the sentence imposed upon them at the recent term of the Garrard circuit court for barn burning.

Judge Hughes Gets Appointment.

Judge M. D. Hughes has received his appointment, not to the postmaster ship at Lancaster however. Gov. McCreary has selected Mr. Hughes as a delegate to the National good Roads Congress, which convenes at Birmingham Ala. on April 14 and 25th.

"Judge" R. G. Pettus Here.

Dick Pettus formerly of this county, but who is destined to become "Judge R. G. Pettus" in Pulaski, was here this week the guest of Mr. U. D. Simpson. Mr. Pettus came up to attend county court and purchase a good saddle horse upon which to make his canvass. He says that he is sure to be the next county judge of Pulaski county, and he has a host of friends in Garrard county who would be glad to help in the making.

Drought Strikes The Community.

Agent Patterson of the Adams Express Co. on last Saturday received his order from the company to deliver no more spirituous, vinous or malt liquors to persons who patronized his office, and to return all consignments in his office to the shippers. This means that those who have been accustomed to securing their liquor cheer from "across the river" will be deprived of this privilege, and will either have to go without or make a personal trip to some "wet" locality. The order was issued in order to conform to the requirements of the recently enacted "Webb Bill".

New Train From Danville To Louisville.

The Southern R. R. from Danville inaugurated a new train that now leaves Danville at 7:30 A. M. connecting with train at Lawrenceburg, arriving at Louisville 11:30 A. M. This makes delightful service as the patrons of this magnificent road can now leave their homes at a more "seasonable" hour. Returning this train will leave Louisville at 4:00 P. M. arrive at Danville 7:45 P. M.

The Sick.

Mrs. Mary Burton remains critically ill, there being no change in her condition for the better noted; Mrs. Sallie McCormack is improving slowly; Mrs. J. P. Prather shows some improvement and a considerable change for the better is reported from the bedside of Mr. John W. Brown. Mr. Brown is not suffering with pneumonia as was erroneously stated in last week's Record, but is suffering with a nervous ailment.

Real Estate Transfer.

Messrs H. C. Hamilton and Frazier G. Hurt, two of Lancaster's most progressive young business men, have purchased of the executor of the will of the late John K. West the West home on Richmond street in this city for $4,000., possession to be given June 1st. Connected with their purchase is one of the best situated and most desirable building lots in the city. The young gentlemen have not indicated their intention as to what disposition they would make of the property, but it is more than probable that they will make material improvements thereon.

Robinson Insurance Case.

The hearing of the insurance case of Robinson, et al, against the Equitable Life Assurance Society on last Saturday before Judge Hardin in the Circuit Court attracted no little attention. The argument of Judge Ed C. O'Rear of Frankfort, on behalf of the plaintiffs was pronounced by those who heard him as one of the most brilliant legal arguments ever heard in the Garrard Circuit Court. The argument of the attorneys consumed most of the day. The point at issue upon this hearing was as to the right of the plaintiffs to cause the Insurance Company to account in this State for the profits or the share of the plaintiffs' profit under their insurance policy. After the hearing the Judge ruled that under the terms of the policy the Company must account to the plaintiffs for the profits as it may appear they are entitled. This is considered a victory for the plaintiffs, being one of the main questions to be decided in the big litigation.

Curt Robinson Captures Sabbath Disturbers.

If vigilance upon the part of the officials will accomplish it Deputy Sheriff C. A. Robinson will break up lawlessness in his section of the county. On last Sunday he heard of a disturbance along the pike near C. A. Arnold's home and upon arriving upon the scene he found more than he could cope with single handed, not that the crowd was obstreperous, but the number exceeded the capacity of his "Black Maria", and he was compelled to telephone Sheriff Ballard to come to his assistance. The two officers arrested and brought to town William, Taylor and James Grimes, Dave White and Ed Middleton, all in a more or less intoxicated condition, some of them so far gone that they had bedded on the roadside. In Judge Ford's court Monday the entire crew were compelled to enrich the county treasury, Taylor Grimes to the tune of $50. and costs, he being charged with furnishing the substantial part of the celebration, while the remainder of the crew were fined $1. each and costs.

Some of these names are becoming familiar in the county court as disturbers of the peace, and it strikes us that if they continue their evil ways, it would be well to give them a few months board at Castle Adams.

Considerable Fear And Some Damage.

The entire community has been in a tremor during the past week because of the high wind, and reading in the daily papers of the terrible loss of human life and damage to property, had a tendency to increase the fear. The subsiding of the wind on Wednesday night was followed by one of the most severe rain storms which ever visited the county. Aside from the damage at Paint Lick, which is told of elsewhere in these columns, there was much damage wrought throughout the county, and because of the disarranged condition of the telephone system, it has perhaps not all been reported. Barns were unroofed and blown from their foundations, fencing blown or washed away, land washed and various other calamities incident to wind and rain storms.

The rural routes were operated under difficulty, and James Hatcher, who drives the Danville stage line, was compelled to return to Lancaster on Wednesday because of the waters of Dix river being over the pike at the Rankin bridge.

The bridge over Drake's Creek between Preachersville and Crab Orchard and the Dix river bridge between Preachersville and Stanford were both washed away, and small bridges on nearly all turnpikes leading out of town were washed away and the pikes and roads throughout the county are badly washed and damaged.

5000 LIVES LOST FROM BREAKING OF LEVEE IN DAYTON O. STORM AND FLOOD EXACT TERRIBLE TOLL.

From 2000 to 5000 people are reported drowned at Dayton O. by the giving away of the levee and the breaking of the reservoir walls, inundating the city. Of this number 400 are said to be school children, and bodies are said to be seen floating in the streets. Gov. Cox estimates 30,000 people to be homeless. From Delaware, Hamilton and other Ohio points, severe loss of life is reported, while at Peru Ind. 200 deaths are reported. Death and disaster is reported from all over the country, and the monetary loss from wind and flood is incalculable.

Paint Lick Village Suffers Severe Damage From The Waters Of Paint Lick Creek. Nearly Every Storehouse And Dwelling Inundated.

The residents of Paint Lick were awakened at 2 o'clock Wednesday morning to find the lower stories of their dwellings under from two to four feet of water. The severe rain of the night had caused an unprecedented rise in the waters of the creek, it had changed its course at the railroad bridge and was running through the village. The track and approaches to the railroad bridge were washed away for a distance of 100 yards on each side, the turnpike bridge was taken from its piers and landed about 100 feet down the creek, every business house in the city with the exception of Anthony Jett's barber shop, which stands on the highest point in the village was inundated, and in the bottoms back of the depot every house was flooded, as was the case with the structures on the right hand side of the pike leaving the depot toward the turnpike bridge. The business house of Fish & Hammack contained four feet of water, which entailed a severe loss upon these clever merchants, as nearly all of their fine clothing which was on racks and hangers was damaged. Other merchants also suffered severe loss to their stock and fixtures. The lumber yard of Mr. I. C. Rucker was washed helter skelter, much of it going down the creek the remainder being deposited in Mr. Guy Rice's yard and in the bottoms. Mr. George Conn's house was under four feet of water and his loss by damage to furniture and household goods was very heavy. Mr. W. F. Parks had a horse and a cow drowned. We understand that the losers have no insurance to cover damage by water. Crowds flocked to the scene of the disaster from Lancaster and other points all day Wednesday. The damage to the railroad stopped trains for the day.

Dr. W. L. Carmon George Conn And Mr.

Burgess Proved Themselves Heroes

During Paint Lick Flood.

While the flood was raging at Paint Lick Wednesday morning it was discovered that a woman and eight small children were marooned in a house down the railroad back of the depot, near the banks of the creek. The house was a two story one and the water had risen to such a height as to force the occupants to seek safety on the second floor. Dr. W. L. Carmon secured a rope and swimming down the stream a distance of sixty feet through the back water which was from ten to fifteen feet deep fastened the rope to a tree near the house. He was followed in his heroic feat by Mr. Burgess and Mr. George Conn, and these gentlemen ascended to the second story of the house and handed the mother and little ones to Dr. Carmon, who swam the distance four more times and until he had landed them all in safety, making in all ten trips through the icy water. At one time he became so chilled as to induce cramp and he was compelled to climb to the limbs of the tree until circulation was restored, when he again resumed his work of rescue. How about a Carnegie medal? These brave men are surely worthy of one.

Mr. Carrier Buys Property.

Mr. W. S. Carrier has bought of Messrs John and Sam Johnson Jr. their property on Danville street, comprising the house and lot of Mr. John Johnson and the lot of Mr. Sam Johnson Jr. in all 7½ acres for $3500. Possession to be given Jan. 1 1914. The extensive and very presentable improvements which Mr. Carrier has heretofore made upon vacant lots which he purchased on Danville street, gives hope that he will make further improvements upon his recent purchases.

The public has been greatly misled
as to the substance and effect of the recent Federal Legislation upon the temperance question. It has been given out that the Webb Bill recently enacted by Congress does not effect
the shipment of intoxicating liquors
into dry territory in Kentucky, but since the bill has gotten into the hands
of the public it is found that any common carrier who receives any intoxicants, either outside of the State or in the State and delivers them to dry
territory in any part of Kentucky violates
the Kentucky local option laws and the Webb Bill prevents such common carrier from being relieved of the penalties prescribed under the local option
laws, by reason of the interstate commerce law which formerly prevented
such prosecution. And any person or corporation who carries or transports
goods from one place to another for pay is a common carrier. The Bill
that became a law is as follows:

"Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, that the shipment or transportation in any manner or by any means, whatsoever, of any spirituous,
vinous, malted, fermented, or other intoxicating liquors of any kind, from one State, territory, or district of the United States,
or from any foreign
country into any State, territory, or
district of the United States, or place
noncontiguous to, but subject to the
jurisdiction thereof, which said spirituous, vinous, malted, fermented, or other intoxicating liquors intended,
by any person interested therein, TO BE RECEIVED, possessed, sold, or in any manner used either in the original package or otherwise, in violation of any law of such State, territory, or
district of the United States, or place
noncontiguous to, but subject to the
jurisdiction thereof, it is hereby prohibited."

The bringing into Garrard County by
any express company or railroad company or private individual for hire of
any intoxicants of any kind, either
from a point in the State or from another State is a violation of the law
and for each offense the penalty upon conviction is a fine of not less than $50.00 nor more than $100.00. This Bill is a great victory for the temperance workers of the country and will greatly limit the use of intoxicants.
It will be almost impossible to have
liquor delivered into Garrard County
since the enactment of this law used
in connection with the rigid local option
laws already in force in this State.
The only conceivable way that persons can get liquor in Garrard County

is by making personal trips to points
in the State where liquor is sold.
Since it is generally conceded that a large
per cent of all crimes and violation of the penal law are primarily caused
by the excessive use of intoxicants,
with the prevention of the delivery of whiskey into Garrard County, we are very hopeful of even better order than we have heretofore had.

Fifty clergymen of every denomination, called at the State Department
and urged Secretary Bryan to take the leadership, of what they hope will prove
the greatest interdenominational Bible
class in the world.

Mr. Bryan has been much in demand
by religious organizations since he took office, so far he has made no promises,
but he, as well as the President and Vice-President, are active church members, any one of them can and will preach a sermon, lead a prayer meeting
or teach a Bible class.

Religion is not only the moral link
that binds man closer with his God, but
with his fellowman and it speaks well
for any nation when it has such Christian gentlemen at the head of affairs.
It has been said that one's personal value depends upon their possession of religion. One is worth to society what they are capable of imparting, and the man whose aims are low, who has in his heart no adoration of God, whose will is not subordinate to the supreme will, cannot be worth very much to himself or to society. There is every reason in a Christian country why all of our public servants should stand for Christianity, and we are glad these men are making their influence as potential for good as possible.

In the death of Samuel Judson
Roberts of Lexington the newspaper
fraternity of the state suffers an irreparable loss. Kindly, courteous
affable gentleman, he endeared himself
to everyone with whom he came in contact. No newspaper man from out in the state who visited Lexington and
called at the Leader office, ever failed
to come away with a favorable
impression and a kindly word for Sam
Roberts. Many of us differed with him
politically, were not in accord with him
as to many of his views, but not one
but gave him credit for being honest in his convictions. In the support of those convictions he exerted himself to his utmost bringing to his support
brilliance with which few of us are gifted, but never in his utterances saying aught that would offend his contemporaries, or that was unbecoming to a Christian gentleman, such as he was.

Clean, moral, upright, kindly of heart
and open of hand, unwavering in his
support of what he believed to be right,
true to his friends and magnanimous to
enemies, we can well say that a good man has gone to his reward.

The little wooden house where Grover
Cleveland was born attracted a distinguished company for its dedication as
a permanent memorial to the dead
President. The formal program for it began with the transfer of a purse of $17,610 in payment for the house, purchased by the "Grover Cleveland Birthplace Memorial Association" from
the trustees of the First Presbyterian church.

Richard F. Cleveland, the President's son, was selected to receive the key
and open the front door, while his sister, Esther, was chosen as the first of the official visitors to enter the room
where her father saw the light just seventy-six years ago, and decorate it
with flowers. Her mother, now Mrs.
Thomas J. Preston, was among the spectators.

There was a time when it was a
sacrilege to appear in one's new spring
bonnet before Easter. Easter Sunday
was the day on which every butterfly
shed her chrysalis, and hats were commonly referred to as "Easter hats."
They were jealously guarded from all prying eyes until Easter morn, when
there was always a pleasurable sensation of springing something new on the world at large. But in this day and generation, when magazines are dated months ahead and strawberries
are in market the first of January, the real "Easter hat" is a thing of the past.

The strained relations between the Greek and Bulgarian contingents at Saloniki gave grounds for the fears that the assassination of King George
might have been incident to a clash
between the Allies; but a message received at midnight dispelled such apprehensions by identifying the assassin
as a Greek degenerate. Another dispatch referred to him as demented.

From the purveyor of shoes comes
the sad cry that English styles are strictly the thing to wear. Anyone who has studied English feet will feel
the tragedy of this announcement.
The pointed toe, long vamp, flat sole
and wide heel are the marks of the English shoe.

It is a strange thing to us that the man who says, "I never believe the papers," tries to back up every
tale he tells by declaring, "Of course
I'm true, I saw it in the papers."

Useful Invention.

Mr. W. M. Watkins of this city has invented and patented a backband that far surpasses anything we have ever seen in that line. It is so simple, so easily adjusted and works so perfectly,
it is needless to say that it will find
sale. Mr. Watkins is a genius himself
and his friends are congratulating him
on his latest patent and hoping that fortune may smile upon him through his efforts in putting this useful article on the markets. They can be had at any of the hardware stores at the same price
of other bands.

The Board of Simplified Spelling Has Another List.

Andrew Carnegie, Theodore Roosevelt
and a score of other noted men are included in the list of the board's members who have just issued the fourth list of words to appear in new fashioned orthography.

Colored Commencement.

Prof. Burns, principal of the local colored school, informs us that the closing exercises of his school will be held at the court house on April 17th
and 18th and requests that as many of the white people as are interested attend. There will be nine graduates,
the same number as last year, and the closing exercises will be unusually interesting.

Prof. Burns has been in charge of the local school for several years and
has built it up to a high state of efficiency, he and his assistants are giving their very best efforts toward making it the best colored school in this part of the state. They deserve great credit for their efforts and the white
people of the community should offer
them every encouragement.

Kind Words From Good People.

Mrs. J. Vincent Arnold called up the Record to deliver a message sent by her sister Miss Annie Belle Burnside
who is attending school in Birmingham Ala. Miss Annie Belle says "the Record is so much improved and she appreciates
it so much, and that she thinks it a better paper than the Birmingham
dailies."

Mrs. Arnold together with her husband and two smaller children arrived Monday to visit her parents Mr. and Mrs. J.
G. Burnside at Point Leavelle, until today when they will leave for a visit to Mr. Arnold's parents in Nelson county,
after which they will return to their home in Birmingham, where Mr. Arnold
is General Ticket Agent at the Union
depot. Their oldest daughter, Miss Annie Catherine, remained at their southern home to assist Miss Annie Belle in "keeping house" during her parents absence.

Ostracize Cans And Rubbish, And White- wash.

Now is the time to take a glance over
your back yards and devise some plan
to ostracize the cans and rubbish which have accumulated. You can generally judge of the occupants of a house by the condition in which the front and back yards are kept. Home and its surroundings above all places in the world should be scrupulously guarded against contaminating influences. A lawn planted with ornamental trees,
vines or bright flowers, shows that the owner thinks life worth living, at any rate he shows he is enjoying life and
takes a pride in his home.

The whitewash season is also approaching and a receipt to make whitewash that will not crumble off may be of use to some one who reads this. It is the formula used by Uncle Sam at the various government works. Take ten parts of fresh slacked lime and one part hydraulic cement, mix well with salt water and apply thin.

D. W. Mahan To Enter Wholesale Gro- cery Firm.

Mr. Daugherty W. Mahan, the popular grocery drummer who makes this territory for the firm of Bryan, Goodwin & Hunt of Lexington, together
with several other gentlemen connected with this firm, has purchased the stock of Mr. Goodwin, who r. tires, and Mr. Mahan and his associates become members of the firm. Mr. Mahan, his host of friends will be glad to know,
will continue on the road in this territory.

This brings to our mind the fact that this well known firm seems to have a
knack of travelling popular salesmen.
Many years ago Clay Hunt travelled through here for the firm, and he was known and liked by everyone, and when he secured an interest in the concern
and left the road, it was freely predicated that as popular a man could not be secured to succeed him. However,
"Bob" Adams soon worked his way in-
to the good graces of customers and citizens alike and endeared himself to everyone with whom he came in contact. Several years ago "Bob" passed to the Great Beyond, and his loss
was a personal one to a great host of friends that he had made throughout
the blue grass section, and it was thought that his loss could surely not be supplied. However, "Daugh" Mahan seems to be, if such a thing could be possible, even more popular than either of his predecessors, and the people are hoping that he may continue on the road, as they are afraid to take the chance of securing a fourth man who would be as good a "mixer" as the three who have preceded him.

Dr. Locke Will Lecture At The Court House Friday Night At 7:30 O'clock Admission Free.

Dr. J. H. Locke will lecture at the court house in Lancaster Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock under the auspices of the Woman's Club. The lecture
will be absolutely free not even a collection being taken. Dr. Locke is Assistant State Sanitary Inspector, his territory being in the 11th district.
His theme will be sanitation, a subject
that should be of vital interest to everyone, and much benefit is to be derived from attending.

The ladies deserve great credit for bringing Dr. Locke here to lecture and the people should show their appreciation by attending.
Admission absolutely free.

Number Of Storms And Casualties Re- sulting Therefrom In The Country Unprecedented.

The Month of March has fairly outdone itself, and the toll exacted by the heavy wind has been very heavy
throughout the country, both in human life and loss of property. One "twis-ter" or miniature tornado has followed
rapidly upon the heels of another, each
one a little more severe than its predecessor, and each one leaving death
and devastation in its wake. In Omaha Neb. on Monday night 75 persons were killed and over 200 injured
and the loss to property will reach into the millions. Reports from all over the country tell of death and destruction. Here at home the ravages of storm and wind have resulted in nothing more disastrous than the unroofing
of a barn here and there, the breaking
of windows and such minor loss.

Wild Rumors Being Circulated In Regard To 'The Big Dam', But As Yet Nothing Definite Is To Be Learned.

The State press in publishing a great deal about the proposed dam near
the mouth of Dix river in this county,
or at the line between this and Mercer
counties, but we are very much inclined
to the belief that much of what is published is merely surmise upon the part of the newspaper men, or else
someone has been "stringing" them.
Last Thursday's issue of the Courier
Journal contained a lengthy article
under a Harrodsburg headline, which attempted to go into details as to the cost, construction etc of the proposed
dam. One day previous to the appearance of this article a gentleman who
is closely connected with the proposed enterprise was in Lancaster
and told a Record man that we might look out for such a report, as the promoters would send men there with a steam drill to make in engineers
parlance, "core borings", to see how
deep they would have to go for foundation for some of the work, and this article was probably the basis for the detailed statement.

The gentlemen who are promoting
this scheme are not giving out any information in regard to either the
work or the progress of the negotiations,
and then, and not until then will we attempt to advise the readers of the Record that the dam is really to be built, much less attempt to give details of cost and construction.

Samuel Judson Roberts Editor Of Lex- ington Leader Passes To His Reward.

Samuel Judson Roberts, the gifted
editor of the Lexington Leader, intimate friend of the late President McKinley, splendid citizen and elegant gentleman, died at his home in Lexington
at 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon after a three weeks illness following a slight
operation which was followed by septic poisoning, and later by pneumonia
which resulted in his death. Funeral services over this beloved and lamented
citizen were held at the family home
on Tuesday afternoon, after which his remains were placed at rest in the Lexington cemetery in a lot which but one
short month ago, while driving through the beautiful City of the Dead with a friend, struck his fancy, and he remarked that it looked like a desirable
spot upon which to be buried and he believed that he would buy it for his
last resting place, which he did upon
his return to the city, little dreaming
perhaps that he should so soon occupy
the place of his choosing. Mr. Roberts
was born in Canton O. on February 11, 1858. He was married in 1888 to Miss Anna Trout of Canton O. who survives,
together with his mother who resides
in Canton, two sisters and a half brother.
Mr. Grant Roberts of Frankfort.

Mr. Roberts came to Lexington in 1888, and in May of that year established the Leader, and within a short time
had planned to celebrate the 25th birthday of his publication. He served for twelve years as Internal Revenue Collector at Lexington, his appointment
being one of the first official acts of President McKinley.

An unswerving republican in politics,
he ever held strong and loyal support
to the faith, and his paper strongly
advocating the nomination and election
of President Taft in the late campaign.
However, despite his political views he held the love and esteem of the entire populace of his adopted city, no more beautiful or touching tribute could be found than the one paid him by his late competitor, Desha Breckinridge,
through the columns of the Herald.

esteem by the newspaper men of the state, and has served as president of

Mr. J. A. Hammond's Store Burns.

The store of Mr. J. A. Hammond on the Danville and Stanford pike burned
Monday night about 8 o'clock entailing
a loss of about $3,000 on the stock and
the building was entire loss, together
with all of Mr. Hammond's household effects. It is supposed to have caught from an upstairs flue, Mr. Hammond lived over the store. Mr. Hammond is well known and has many friends in Lancaster who will deeply sympathize with him in his loss. He formerly conducted a business at Hubble in Lincoln county.

King George's Slayer Worked In Cin- cinnati.

Aleko Schinas, the Greek who killed
King George of Greece, worked in Cincinnati at the Stag Hotel as a boot-black in 1901 and is said to have had anarchistic tendencies then. Mr. Joe Coyle, of Lexington, had charge of the Stag Hotel at the time and it is said that when President McKinley
was buried in September of that year
the bootblack stand was closed during the funeral. When told why the stand was closed, Schinas is said to have remarked:

"It ain't anything to put those fellows away. If I had my way I would kill all the Governments."

"Blue Grass League" Probably Dead.

After much storm and turmoil,
which finally wound up in the courts
in their efforts to establish a Blue Grass League club in Covington, the death knell of the league has probably been sounded. Hogan Yancey and Tommy Sheets of Lexington have been in conference with the Ohio State League officials at Portsmouth O., and as a result the Lexington and Maysville clubs will become members of that organization, provided the National Association of Baseball Leagues
will sanction it, which is highly probable. With these two strong clubs out of its ranks, the passing of the Blue Grass League is almost a surety.

The Womans Club

(Edited By The Womans Club)

There is one dollar due from each and every member of the Womans Club who has not as yet given this sum toward furnishing the new club room in the college. The committee can make no further plan until all of this fund is collected. See the treasurer Mrs. Price at once.

The literary department of the Womans Club will meet next Wednesday afternoon at the usual time and place.

Here And There In Clubland.

The members of the Middlesboro Woman's Club are rejoicing that a beautiful room in their new Library building has been set aside for their permanent quarters. It is nearing completion. In this is gratified a desire which has been theirs since the organization of the club.

They will be well established and feeling much at home in their new and beautiful surroundings when they play the hosts to the Kentucky Federation in June.

The Henderson Woman's Club availing themselves of the well-known charm of tea for women, and the attractively sounding affairs "teas" are gathered in a most helpful collection of books for its library extension work at a "Book Tea" not long since. Since this success they declare for it as an annual institution.

The Frankfort Club is especially proud of the Public Library which it maintains on the fourth floor of the United American building. The growth and success of this work in the six years since its establishment have been highly satisfactory.

Nehemiah was a wise man who lived long ago. His plan of building up the broken and fallen walls of the city of Jerusalem has never been surpassed even in this modern day.

To restore these walls he decreed that each man must repair "over again his own house."

To-day if each individual faithfully carried out this plan no public repairs would be needed.

We lament our civic evils, and feel powerless before the great mass of wrongs to be righted.

If each one began right at home and faithfully, and carefully corrected the errors there a great reform would be wrought.

If each citizen in town kept his own house and home in perfect order no cleaning up day would be needed.

If each merchant and groceryman kept the sidewalk in front of his store clean the town would be spared the expense of having it cleaned.

If each man, woman and child in town placed in the garbage can the paper they now throw on the street the square would not look so unsightly, by building our own share of the wall no public repairs would ever be needed.

Hints to the Wise.

If we all pick up our own tin cans we will have no tin can alley.

Clean up front yards, back yards and alleys.

Begin to fight flies, weeds and mosquitoes.

Study the ordinances of our city, and help in their enforcement.

Is it right to put wagons and hardware implements on the side of the streets where they frequently tear ladies dresses?

Is it right for grocerymen to put vegetables and produce on the sidewalk exposed to dust, flies and dogs? We demand clean markets.

Scientists have greatly blessed the world in giving to it the various serums. For diphtheria, pneumonia and typhoid fever we have the preventive serums which have saved thousands of lives, now if some wise man would invent a back-bone serum which by injection would infuse courage and give a man civic conscience and righteousness his reward and fame would be great.

Is there an ordinance forbidding cattle and horses staying on the square all day on Court Day.

Should Keep Name In Paper.

No business man in any town should allow a newspaper published in his town to go without his name mentioned somewhere in its columns. This applies to all kinds of business, general store, dry goods store, groceries, furniture dealers, professional men and in fact all classes of business men.

This does not mean that you should have a whole or half or even a quarter page ad. in every issue of the paper but your name and business should be mentioned if you do not use more than a two line space. A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell just what business is represented in a town by looking at the business mentioned in the paper. This is the best possible town advertising. The man who does not advertise his business does an injustice to himself and his town. He is the man who expects the paper to do most of the boosting for his town. The man who insists on sharing the business that comes to a town but refuses to advertise is not doing his share of boosting. The life of any town depends upon the live, wide awake and liberal business men in it.—Ex.

News Of The Churches.

Revival services will begin at the Methodist Church the second Sunday night in April. Rev. Andrew Johnson one of the leading song evangelists will have charge of the singing. All are cordially invited to attend these services and lend a helping hand in bringing about an old time revival.

S. H. Pollitt, Pastor.

There will be preaching at the Methodist Church next Sunday morning.

Rev. S. M. Martin who was recently called to the pastorate of the local Baptist Church here, is holding an interesting revival at that church this week, having begun last Tuesday night. The meeting will continue for several days and a cordial welcome is extended to all.

From the standpoint of attendance the Sabbath school at the Christian Church last Sunday morning was almost a record breaker, 179 being present. With the spring weather opening up it is predicted that 300 will be reached before many weeks.

The morning services at the Christian Church last Sunday besides a splendid sermon by Bro. Tindler a delightful musical program was rendered. A duet was ably rendered by Misses Mamie Stormes Dunnand Florence Johnson and a song by Mrs. L. N. Miller, ably accompanied by Mrs. W. R. Bastin was one of the sweetest we have ever heard.

On the first Sunday afternoon in April a Sunday school will be organized at the Antioch school house. Rev. S. H. Pollitt will conduct the services.

A large crowd packed the Christian Church Sunday evening and enjoyed the Easter services rendered by the Junior Society of the Christian Endeavor. About fifty children participated in the entertainment and the entire program was well received from start to finish under the able management of Mrs. W. A. Price and Mrs. Emma Higginbotham. Some delightful music was ably rendered by Miss Lettie Mae McRoberts on the pipe organ. Quite a little sum was collected and will be used in the missionary field for which these children are so earnestly working.

We Are Attracting State Wide Attention.

The Louisville Times has the following to say in regard to our cartoon and the war the ladies are making on the poles in the Park.

"Not a War of Roses, but a 'War of Poles'—not a conflict with the House of York has Lancaster been having, but a warfare waged by its Woman's Club against unsightly poles in the public square.

Bombarded were these poles—or the interests entrenched behind them—by the red-hot opinions of many women printed in the local papers as a sort of symposium. The siege was continued, long articles of capitulation were drawn by the besiegers demanding the removal of the poles, the fence surrounding the park, and the unsightly trees, the laying of the water pipe to the center of the plot and plugging same; the appropriation of $200 to the improvement fund, and the turning over the place to the besiegers, who, in turn, would improve and beautify as they pleased, spending at least $700 in doing this.

No delay was given for signing the articles. The "fall of the park" into the hands of the women is told in a clever cartoon in the Central Record in which the Mayor of Lancaster is depicted with his official ax in hand, announcing to "Miss Lancaster" that certainly he will remove the poles if it will give her pleasure.

For our part we believe that armed with such a local press department as it has and with such strong leaders the Lancaster Woman's Club could put to rout any objectionable force in that town. And the Federation is keeping its eye on 'em, too.

In the new $30,000 school building at Lancaster a room has been placed at the disposal of the Woman's Club, and here they are fitting up their new home and intend it shall have such an atmosphere of club life woman's club life—that it will prove a place from which shall emanate the highest and noblest influences for the entire community always."

Teachers And Trustees Of Garrard County Should Attend Kentucky Educational Association Which Convenes

In Louisville Ky. on

April 30 to May

3d.

Many of the teachers and trustees of Garrard county are already making preparations to attend the meeting of the Kentucky Educational Association, which convenes in Louisville on April 30th and May 1-2 and 3d. Others should join them and every teacher and trustee who can possibly manage to do so should attend the meeting. Coming just before the opening of schools the vast amount of information to be gleaned at this meeting will be very valuable aid to the teachers when they open their schools. Every thing possible in the way of modern educational facilities will be discussed at this meeting and the most able educators in the country will be there and take part in the discussions. There will be many modes of amusement provided for those who attend, the railroads will provide cheap rates and those who fail to attend will do so to their sorrow.

Our Easter Opening.

Away back yonder, at the very dawn of creation, a wardrobe consisted simply of a few fig leaves and a pleasant smile, but if you were in Lancaster last Saturday you observed that customs have changed and styles have been amplified.

The openings are all over and if there is a woman in Lancaster who is not thoroughly familiar with the styles of this Spring it is her own fault, for verily our merchants and milliners have outdone themselves in exhibiting large stocks of up to date goods. A tour of the millinery shops last Saturday made us know why it is so hard for a woman to decide upon one hat over all of those beautiful creations. The shops of Mrs. Ada Kinnaird, Miss Rella Arnold and R. S. Brown convinced even a casual observer that this season is to be one of color; away with your little black and white effects for Neil rose, bright purple, burnt orange, reds and all conceivable shades of cerise! And that blue that has been known by all the names it could have but stays about the same color, this year it is called Madonna blue, instead of Alice blue etc. Some hats greet you with a question mark, while others have the tall exclamation mark, in other words diacritical decorations are the smart things in hats, to say nothing of mercury wings perched on top looking for all the world like Mercury's own hat.

There are no more important institutions in the make up of any community than first class millinery stores, and Mrs. Kinnaird, Miss Arnold and Miss Nannie Anderson who is with R. S. Brown, because of their ability to meet the most exacting demands, have added to and multiplied their business in a manner gratifying both to themselves and their friends.

But to return to the shops—did you go into Josephs and get one of those beautiful carnations and listen to the music while looking at those beautiful gowns? If you didn't you are the loser. It is not necessary to expatiate upon the merits of the goods handled by this firm for all know that the quality is of first importance with them. Adolph and Arthur, besides being good business men are also good citizens, always ready to aid the town in any way possible.

The firm of R. S. Brown not only had millinery on display, but new Spring goods of every style and description for both men and women. Since coming to our town Mr. Brown has established a splendid business, and because he is reliable and accommodating, he will be able to retain it through the years to come.

In summing up of the business of the community it would be incomplete without due mention being made of Mr. R. H. Batson, who is one of the mercantile war horses of the county. He has made a success of life and application to business, fair deals and liberal supply of printers ink have been largely responsible. He has always brought on a beautiful supply of goods and this year is no exception.

It has always been hard for us to remember that H. T. Logan carries a large line of ladies ready to wear garments so accustomed are we to think of him as the haberdasher, but we want to say to you, don't you forget it, for he has on a line of exclusive high class tailored and lingerie garments. He is just as ambitious to please the ladies as the gentlemen, and applies the Golden Rule to every business transaction.

We hadn't intended to mention Jim Smith because we thought those socks and ties would speak for themselves, but Jim is so competent, obliging and is always "dar wid de stuff" so we ask you to pay him a call and be convinced.

In summing it all up and without any attempt to flatter our milliners and merchants we want to say no town of our size carries a larger or better supply of goods, then why go elsewhere to buy, why not spend your money at home, in this OUR TOWN and make it the ideal town of the State.

Dr. Locke's lecture at the court house Friday night will be both interesting and instructive. Hear him.

Plowing Time.

(By Harvey M. Estes)

Oh bring me out the turning plow
And make the mouldboard shine,
And get the plow gear ready too:
For now it's plowing time.
Give me, too, the faithful horse
That walks the furrow well,
That knows the plowman's "Gee" and
"Haw!"—
A horse I would not sell.
Many a day I've watched the soil
Turn before the plow;
Many a root and rock I've struck—
This job—I know just how.

The growing grass, the budding trees,
I oft looked up to see,
So round and round the field we went—
This faithful team and me.
The preparation of the soil—
A task that pleasure brought;
For behind the turning plow
I labored in noble thought.
The city life I've tasted since,
With all its many beauties;
It takes away the quiet toil,
It gives perplexing duties.
Though now I live the life I planned
In happy plow-boy days,
And meet the problems of a man,
Who seeks mankind to raise.
I often wish for just a day
In which to turn the sod;
To walk behind the turning plow
And think the thoughts of God.

NOTICE

NOTED SPEAKERS WILL BE HEARD

When Kentucky Educational Association Meets.

GATHERING AT LOUISVILLE.

Program Committee of K. E. A. Extremely Fortunate in Securing Services of Many Distinguished Educators and Speakers of National Reputation. Partial List Given Here.

If never there, you ought to go. If ever there, you'll want to go. The program committee of the Kentucky Educational Association has been extremely fortunate in securing the services of practically all the prominent speakers that were originally selected for the gathering in Louisville on April 30 and May 1, 2 and 3. The music will be quite varied, as it is planned to have high school glee clubs, class choruses and organ recitals. Before becoming president of the Armour Institute of Technology of Chicago Dr. Gussaulus occupied some of the largest pulpits in that city. Whether Dr. Gussaulus talked in his church or in one of Chicago's great theaters, he always had a large audience to listen to him say big things in a splendid, big way.

Dr. Gussaulus' lecture dates have carried him all over the country in the winter, and during the summer he is always in demand as a popular Chautauqua talker. One of the finest things about Dr. Gussaulus is that, although he is popular, he has never failed to say strong, vigorous things.

Colonel Henry Exall.

It will be an inspiration to the trustees who attend the Kentucky Educational Association to listen to Colonel Exall of Texas. Last January the Commercial club of Louisville had Colonel Exall as the speaker at the annual New Year gathering and he simply electrified the men present.

Something over two years ago Colonel Exall decided that it was time for Texas to take care of her soil. Now,

DR. FRANK W. GUSSAULUS.

When Colonel Exall decides things ought to be done the things usually have a way of getting done. He at once inaugurated the Texas industrial congress, which offered $10,000 in gold as prizes for crops in all parts of Texas. It was soon evident that the $10,000 in gold was the least expensive part of the undertaking for the various contestants must be kept in touch with each other and the congress. The undertaking cost $30,000 for the first year. Colonel Exall raised the funds. This year 4,000 men, women, boys and girls contested for the prizes and the whole state is awake to the fact that results are being produced. In fact this feeling has become so strong that a group of business men are preparing to finance the Texas industrial congress for a period of three years.

Dr. Charles Evans.

Dr. Charles Evans is president of the State Normal school at Edmond, Okla. He is a transplanted Kentuckian, and like any number of transplanted Kentuckians he has made good in the state of his adoption. He grew up with the country, and grew up big. In fact he has grown so big that he is now being spoken of as the next state superintendent of Oklahoma.

His new book, "Growing a Life," published by Rand, McNally & Co., is receiving favorable comment from prominent educators in all parts of the country. It will probably be adopted as one of the Kentucky reading circle books for the ensuing year.

Dr. Alston Ellis.

Another ex-Kentuckian on the program of the Kentucky Educational Association is Dr. Alston Ellis, president of the Ohio university at Athens. For twelve years he has been making history at the University of Ohio, so he is sure to have something worth while to say to the teaching force of his home state.

It is said that his love for Kentucky has never been dimmed by his service out of the state. In fact it is rumored that he will build a handsome home at Fort Thomas, Ky., where he will reside after leaving the university in 1913.

FARMERS' LOSS IN SOUTH IS GREAT

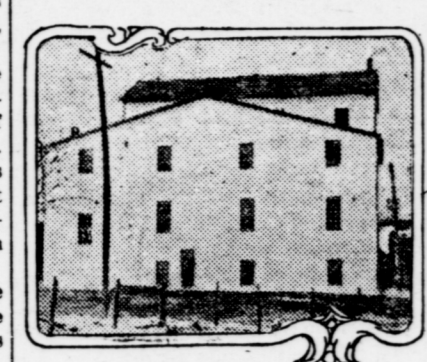

Lack of Co-operation Declared to Be the Cause.

EXPERT GIVES FIGURES.

Professor Coulter of Census Bureau Has Compiled Some Startling Statistics on Annual Loss Sustained by Southern Farmers—Co-operation at Versailles For Past Year a Success.

Professor John Lee Coulter, expert special agent in the census bureau at Washington, has compiled some startling statistics in regard to the annual loss sustained by the southern farmers because of lack of co-operation.

The crops of the southern farmers are worth each year in round numbers $2,500,000,000. Most of this sum is spent for farm supplies, food, clothing, etc., and $1,000,000,000 of this amount finds its way into the pockets of the ever present middlemen.

It is estimated that the southern farmers secure credit by paying $165,000,000 in excessive interest each year.

All of this tremendous waste of money is made possible through lack of co-operation on the part of the gardeners and farmers, while at the same time it makes the city man pay a much higher price for the produce than he should.

Among the men in big business enterprises co-operation has been recognized as the golden key to success in the twentieth century. Co-operation and close organization, however, are products of education, and education is the weak point in most of our rural communities. Co-operation among farmers and growers has failed largely because the mass of our rural population has been poorly educated and at the same time scattered over a wide territory. In the future our success in organization and co-operation among farmers, gardeners and fruit growers will lie in better schools, in better teachers, wide awake ministers and a closer community life.

Versailles is finishing a successful year in co-operative work with its Farmers' Union Supply company. Last summer 119 farmers and stockmen took stock in the company and its success was almost immediate. As the stockholders in this company are largely growers of Burley tobacco and raisers of blooded stock it will be seen that the union can do very little as a selling agent. The main work of the past year has been as a buying agent; and in this particular line it has been a great success.

The first year's buying business will amount to about $45,000. Large amounts of wire fencing, field seeds, farm machinery, paint and coal have been bought both from jobbers and wholesale men. The first year's business has been good enough for the members of the union to receive 6 per cent on their stock and also obtain a rebate of 5 per cent upon all purchases made through the union.

A new mill has just been completed and will soon be in operation. This will take care of the grain grown by the members of the union and enable them to buy their mill feed at quite reasonable figures.

Education in co-operation will mean better roads, better schools, better trustees, better tax laws, better men and women everywhere in the highways and byways of our rural Kentucky.

TO RALLY IN LOUISVILLE.

If never there, you ought to go. If ever there, you'll want to go.

During the Kentucky Educational Association meeting, April 30, May 1, 2 and 3, Louisville will be overflowing with teachers, trustees and friends of the schools. The people of the big cities are watching the rural school problem with great interest. Louisville was among the first to strive to help in its solution.

If so, get a box of Dr. King's New Life Pills, take them regularly and your trouble will quickly disappear. They will stimulate the liver, improve your digestion and get rid of all the poisons from your system. They will surely get you well again 25c at R. E. McRoberts & Son. 1-m

One Of George D. Burdett's Reminiscences

Mr. George D. Burdett who is spending a short time in Lancaster in the interest of the Central Life Insurance Co., has Lancaster history as far back as before the war readily at his tongue end. Fond of telling an anecdote, and with an interesting one ever ready to tell, he relates the following, which was suggested to him by the column published in last week's Record taken from the Lancaster News published during the prevalence of cholera here in 1873.

"When the cholera broke out in 1873 every minister of the Gospel deserted Lancaster except Uncle Washington Lusk; Uncle Washington, although possessed of a black skin, had a heart as warm and true as many of those who were far his superior in mental attainments and whose skins were white; he interpreted the Scriptures in his own simple way to the very best of his abilities, and often to the consternation of his fold. He held the unstinted esteem of all classes, both white and colored, because of the fact that he was undoubtedly a Godly man as well as an upright, good citizen. This esteem and respect was augmented by the fact that he did not desert his post when the scourge of pestilence visited the community and the people stood sadly in need of spiritual ministrations.

One Sabbath while the plague was raging Uncle Washington held services at the court house, his audience was composed of all the able bodied colored people of the community, liberally interspersed with the white people who were able to attend or had not sought refuge in flight. Uncle Washington took his text upon the visitation of the plague, and after haranguing his audience for some time, he gave this version of its cause:—'Look hyar you niggers, do you know the good Lawd done sent this here cholera on you all as a punishment for yo'sins; yo' all done left the farms and the country and quit work, done come here to town laying round, a gambler and a stealin chickens and everything triffin' and the Good Lawd is a punishin of yo' all for it.' A colored brother in the audience called out:—'B'er Washington de white folks don't steel chickens and do all dis meanness you hab de cholera, now why did the Good Lawd done visit it on dem? The good old brother had evidently anticipated just such an interogatory, and was ready with an apt retort: 'Hol' on dar nigger, hol' on dar, you can't get aroun dis thing that a way, de good Lord done know his business, He want some witnesses to you niggers meanness, dats why he done' flitted some of the good white folks with dis here disease.' The inquisitive brother was aweid into silence and the remainder of the congregation were forcibly impressed by Uncle Washington's logic.

"Pittsburgh Perfect" Fence

Put it up Right, and you'll get Double Efficiency, Long Life, Economy, Satisfaction

It's no trick at all to erect "Pittsburgh Perfect"—just follow the directions in our catalogue. "Pittsburgh Perfect" goes up without a hitch, over the most uneven ground as easily as on level land. The secret's in the Weld. It costs less to string "Pittsburgh Perfect" because it takes less time than any other fence.

No bagging or sagging, no slipping stays, no buckling up when stringing on account of "long" and "short" wires, because there are none. Consider building-cost when you buy fence. It is a serious problem for some, but "Pittsburgh Perfect" users smile.

Made in Different Styles for FIELD, FARM, RANCH, LAWN, CHICKEN, POULTRY and RABBIT YARD and GARDEN

Ask your dealer for "Pittsburgh Perfect" and insist on his furnishing it. Do not allow him to persuade you that some other fence is just as good. If he doesn't sell it, write us direct.

You Know Us

We are in business right here where you live. You are an acquaintance, neighbor or a friend of ours. This money-back-if-not-satisfied offer should prove the sincerity of our claims.

When we say we believe we have the best laxative and back up our statement with our unqualified promise to return without question or formality the money paid for it, if it does not prove entirely satisfactory to you, we believe we are entitled to your confidence.

Our business success and prestige depend upon your confidence in us. We know we must secure and hold your confidence in order to get and keep your patronage. Therefore, we would not dare make this offer if we were not positively certain that we can prove our claims for

Relax Orderlies

Our experience with them and the many reports we have received from those who have used them prove that they are really the most pleasing and satisfactory bowel remedy we know of.

Relax Orderlies taste like candy. They are soothing and easy in action. They don't cause griping, nausea, purging or excessive looseness, as do the usual physical or laxative. Relax Orderlies seem to act as a tonic-strengthening upon the nerves and muscles of the bowels. They promptly

ly relieve constipation. They act to overcome the cause of constipation. They tend to eliminate the cause of sick headache, biliousness, bad breath, nervousness and other ills attendant upon inactive bowels.

Make Us Prove This

We want you to come to our store and get a package of Relax Orderlies. Use a few or use up the entire box. Then, if you are not entirely satisfied, come back and tell us and we will promptly return the money you paid us for them.

You promise nothing—you sign nothing—you obligate yourself to us in no way whatever. We accept your mere word.

Don't you now believe that Relax Orderlies are worthy of a trial? Could any offer be more fair?

Try Them at Our Risk

We particularly recommend Relax Orderlies for children, aged persons and for delicate people. Relax Orderlies come in vest-pocket tin boxes, 12 tablets, 10c; 30 tablets, 25c; 60 tablets, 50c. Usual dose one tablet.

CAUTION: Please bear in mind that Relax Orderlies are not sold by all drug stores. You can buy Relax Orderlies only at The Rexall Stores.

The Praise That Comes From Thankful
Lancaster People.

One kidney remedy has known merit. Lancaster people rely upon it. That remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills. Lancashire testimony proves it reliable. Mrs. J. W. Humphrey, Danville St., Lancaster, Ky., says: "My experience with Doan's Kidney Pills leads me to say that they live up to the claims made for them. I suffered a great deal from backache and could not sleep well. On several occasions my back became so painful and weak that I was unable to attend to my household. Being advised to give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial, I did so, procuring a supply at Frisbie's Drug Store, (now R. E. McRoberts & Son's Store). They helped me from the first and I was soon relieved."

"Doan's Kidney Pills are a great medicine. They promptly relieved me and I gladly confirm what I said some years ago recommending them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States.

The Cause Of Rheumatism.

Stomach trouble, lazy liver and deranged kidneys are the cause of rheumatism. Get your stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels in healthy condition by taking Electric Bitters, and you will not be troubled with the pains of rheumatism. Charles B. Allen, a school principal of Sylvania, Ga., who suffered indescribable torture from rheumatism, liver and stomach trouble and diseased kidneys, writes: "All remedies failed until I used Electric Bitters, but four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me completely." Maybe your rheumatism pains come from stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Electric Bitters will give you prompt relief. 50c and $1.00. Recommended by R. E. McRoberts & Son.

Entries For 1913 Boys' Corn Club Are

Wanted. Send Miss Higgins

Your Name.

Garrard county will have another Corn Club this year, and the prizes offered will in all probability be more liberal than those of last year, and they will be worth striving for, to say nothing of getting a chance at the state championship. County superintendent Jennie Higgins requests that every boy desiring to enter the club, send her his name at once in order that she may make the necessary provisions for securing the proper amount of seed corn.

Miss Higgins is also seriously contemplating the organization of a "straw berry club" for the girls, but this plan as yet has not taken definite shape, however, she would be glad to have every girl who contemplates entering this club send her name in order that she may consult with Commissioner of Agriculture Newman in regard to the matter and see if she can arrange for the plants. Miss Higgins has as yet given us no definite information as to the strawberry club, but we suppose the same rules as to eligibility will prevail as in the boys club.

Bleucher 46158, record 2:29 1/4, trial mile 2:14 1/4, half in 1:06, last quarter in 32 seconds, is a handsome seal brown horse, and will weigh 1100 pounds. He greatly resembles his good sire Silent Brook and is out of Clayo, by the great Futurity sire Moko. A grand combination of two of the best race horse families of the present day. He being a real race horse himself, having had very little training and most of that by an amateur. It certainly looks like this horse is of Grand Circuit caliber, and if given half a chance he will win his share of the money sure.

BLEUCHER is a perfect type of a road horse, good gaited with perfect manners, wears no boots, or weights. He was a money winner at the Blue Grass Fair last year and is conceded by good judges to be the best road horse out this year.

This is a good opportunity for Garrard and adjoining counties to breed in to the best families of the trotting blood. Look this horse's breeding over and see how many they have in the list both sire and dam.

This great Trotting Stallion will make the season of 1913 at my stable in Lancaster, Kentucky, at

The veteran reinsman, Mr. E. F. Geers, has the following to say relative to this horse.

"I am under the impression that Gordon Todd will prove to be a great sire" as he was good headed, pure gaited, with plenty knee, shoulder and stride action which all good sires have to have. I do think that had he been sound he would have gone a mile in 2:04 or 2:06 and probably faster. Yours truly,
E. F. Geers.

SHE HAS A GRIEVANCE

By MARY BAILEY.

"Wouldn't I like to get my hands on that landlord, though!" ejaculated Mrs. Regan, with deep yearning. She stood conversing across the low railing that divided her back porch from the next one in the Garibaldi flats. "Wouldn't I, just! Him talking so smooth, pleasant and nodding his head. 'Yes, Mrs. Regan.' 'Certainly, Mrs. Regan.' as though his mouth was full of butter!"

"I was just going through the basement of the laundry, when I saw him talking to the janitor and the janitor calling him Mr. Phelps as polite as could be. It flashed over me here was my chance."

"I went right up to him when I heard the name. 'Are you the Mr. Phelps that owns the building?' says I. 'Are you the landlord?' 'Yes, madam,' says he, kind of startled like. 'Mr. Kelly, the agent being sick, I thought I'd come around myself and have a look at things.'"

"Well," says I, "I'm glad to have a few words with you. Not wanting to say anything against any one when he's not here, I won't tell you how that man Kelly has deceived and browbeaten me and said 'yes' and acted 'no' to a few simple little requests I had to make. If that man Kelly was to be asked his own name point blank he'd say it was Jones just because he hates to tell the truth!"

"Look at my gas stove!" I says. "No," I says impatient, for Mr. Phelps looked around the basement kind of wild, as though he expected to see the stove there among the laundry tubs. "It ain't here, but I'll be glad to show it to you! Here am I, working myself to skin and bone trying to keep the nickel on that stove bright and it looks like old junk." And he up and says he won't furnish a new one because this was new last year. And me asking him polite and gentle for new shelves in the pantry every time I've laid eyes on him, and him saying he'd see about it and he hasn't! These shelves are two inches too wide for any shelf paper and I'm a neat woman and I don't like dust over next the wall, even if it doesn't show!"

"Now, I put it to you, Mr. Phelps," I says, "is that any way to treat a tenant as pays prompt each month?" "No, no, indeed!" Mr. Phelps answered, breathless like. "If you'll excuse me—"

"Just a minute," I says, taking him by the arm. "While you're here I want you to come upstairs and look at the wall paper in my parlor. I've had Mr. Kelly look at it every time I've seen him and he's agreed that I should have it done over and then he doesn't do it! Of course, I picked it out when I came in and that was all right, but how did I know my daughter Mamie was going to get a craze to have her hair dyed that reddish tint? You can see for yourself, Mr. Phelps, how red her hair won't go at all with this pinkish paper. Mamie has an artistic temperament and she says every time she has to come into this room it makes her feel faint and she's neglecting her piano practice something shocking just because she can't stand her hair next to this paper."

"Henry Dilbeck, the plumber around the corner," I says, "is paying particular attention to Mamie and, goodness knows, she may lose him, feeling so awful about the paper and not being able to concentrate her attention on him as she ought, men being so keen on being made a fuss over! Any man with a heart, Mr. Phelps," I says, "would feel sorry for Mamie and not let the price of a few rolls of paper spoil her life, poor girl! Though I don't see why this pinkish paper. Mamie has an artistic temperament and she says every time she has to come into this room it makes her feel faint and she's neglecting her piano practice something shocking just because she can't stand her hair next to this paper."

"When I was opening a closet door to show him where I needed new hooks he opened the front door and slid out."

"I waited and waited a week for the paperhangers and the new stove and things and nothing happened, and then I looked in the telephone book and called up Mr. Phelps' office. No dealing with that Kelly for me when I can get the owner!"

"What do you suppose I got? Some snip of a girl says," Mr. Phelps left word to tell Mrs. Regan that he'd gone to the middle of Africa for ten years and was likely to be delayed getting back and for Mrs. Regan to please see Mr. Kelly!"

"Kelly! You can't trust any of 'em, says I. But wouldn't I like to tell Mr. Phelps what I think of him? He's worse'n Kelly!"—Chicago Daily News.

In one of his witty Thanksgiving addresses Senator Dewey once said: "Our forefathers went to Thanksgiving service on Thanksgiving morn with blunderbuses on their shoulders and both eyes peeled for Indians—and at that got many an arrow wound on route, and left many a scalp behind. 'It is no longer thus. There's truth in the little boy's dictum."

"Pa," said the little boy, 'did the Indians settle America?"

"Yes, my son."

"And then, pa, we settled the Indians, didn't we?"

Of Interest To Us

NOT U. S.

Our good friend, Mr. A. R. Denny kindly handed us a copy of the CENTRAL KENTUCKY NEWS, dated Lancaster, Ky AUGUST 28, 1873 from which this column is clipped.

Mr. Wm. Walker, of this county bought of Mr. Chas. T. Hemphill, of Jessamine, a fine gray trotting mare, for $1,000.

W. E. Walker of Garrard, bought last week of J. F. and J. W. Spencer, Fayette their bay horse, Dick, by Vinde, dam by Bay Messenger, for $600.

The same gentleman also bought of Joe Hocker of Boyle, his two year old filly for $750.

Mr. Chas. F. Loudon, a most estimable young man, of Cincinnati, rendered invaluable services to our sick, dying and dead, through the cholera epidemic. He has the gratitude of our people, who will ever cherish a kind regard for him. He left yesterday morning for his home.

There have been no new cases in town since Tuesday.

In our last issue, we said that there was a difference of opinion as to the certainty of the prevailing epidemic being the real Asiatic cholera. Now we presume there is not a doubt. All those who have remained here have seen it; and we believe it is the general impression that Mr. A. W. Bewly, who died last Friday, had contracted the disease, while in Tennessee and brought it with him. This however may not have been the case. There are other speculations, among which is (the very likely cause of the spread of the disease), that of the well-water used in the locality where the disease was most violent. If such is the case we shall certainly be in favor of destroying the well in that part town and the sooner it is done the better.

We were agreeably startled about 4 o'clock, Sunday morning, by the locomotive whistle of a special train from Louisville, bearing two learned physicians, Drs. Berry and Wilson, to offer their assistance in time of need. Their names will be remembered by a grateful people long after the names of those who ran away from their duty have been forgotten.

Drs Wilson and Berry went to work within five minutes after their arrival and infused a new hope and confidence in the few people remaining. When men put their lives in hazard, and come to help strangers they never saw or knew, the Lord will surely bless their efforts.

On Monday Dr. Sam'l L. T. Smith, assistant surgeon U. S. Marine Hospital, of Louisville, arrived on the evening train.

On Tuesday Dr. Frazee, of Louisville arrived here, and has been visiting the sick.

Nearly every case of cholera which has occurred here can be traced to intemperance, imprudence or fright. It is thought Anderson West died from nothing but fright, as he had no symptoms of cholera. It is also believed by some that a number of other cases were similar.

One old negro man, under our observation, took medicine from several persons—enough, we thought, to have killed a dozen men, when a stranger entered town and professed to cure the terrible disease. Old "uncle Ned" was placed in his charge, with an offer from the citizens of $50 if he effected a cure. A few hours afterward Ned began to revive, and all had hopes of his recovery, but about the close of 24 hours poor "uncle Ned" breathed his last.

Some parties have visited our town in our time of trouble, with cholera "patents", &c., but when they found that most of the sick were objects of charity they have sneaked off with fingers to the nose.

Many people have passed through town in buggies, carriages, &c., holding their noses.

Many of the negroes who left town last week were driven back.

Some of our people who have visited a neighboring town were invited to leave, and made to accept the invitation.

Unfounded Rumor.

The publication of a column from a newspaper published in 1873, in last week's Record, gave rise to a rumor that cholera was prevalent in Lancaster. Such a thing is preposterous, and was evidently started by some unthoughtful person who did not observe very closely what he was reading, and did not take particular pains as to what he was telling. It is pretty safe to predict that there will never be another epidemic of cholera in Lancaster, the observance of the modern rules of sanitation preclude the possibility of such a thing, and the article taken from a paper of the long ago was simply published as a curiosity.

A Tornado.

A terrible wind storm, which attained cyclonic proportions and which was accompanied by rain and lightning swept over Lancaster Friday night, doing much damage by unroofing barns, blowing down chimneys, putting telephone, telegraph and electric poles and wires out of commission. The storm seemed to have reached the height of its fury about five o'clock when lightning struck the large barn of Carson Gover about five miles from Lancaster on the Rush Branch pike. The barn caught fire and burned to the ground, destroying 17 mules, 9 horses, 4 jennets, 2 jacks, 4 cows and 2 hogs, besides hay and farming implements. The loss is about $6,000 with no insurance. The loss is a heavy one and Mr. Gover has the sympathy of friends in both Lincoln and Garrard Counties.

METAL BOTTLE TOP REMOVER

Ordinary Table Fork Will Perform Operation With Neatness and Dispatch—Knife Also Used.

Everybody is familiar with the little metal tops used on bottles. But the general opinion is that a top can not be removed without the aid of a specially designed opener. A Philadelphia man was recently confronted with the problem of removing one of these tops without the official instrument. This is the way he did it: He took an ordinary table fork and placed one of the outside tines beneath the edge of the cap. He then took a knife and inserted the end of the blade between the other outside tine and the center one. By pressing down on the knife handle he secured just the upward pull on the edge of the crown top that is needed to dislodge it. An ingenious and simple substitute.

GOOSE LAYING SEASON HERE

Advisable to Start Upon Small Scale and Run Two Geese With Each Gander—Get Early Eggs.

One of the best seasons for purchasing geese is during the latter part of the year, for then the birds have a chance to settle down properly before the laying season, which in the case of geese begins at the end of January. It is advisable to start upon a small scale and to run two geese to each gander. They should be housed in roomy, dry floored quarters that are well ventilated without being draughty. Use dry straw as litter and renew frequently.

When the birds are of the right type the young usually take after them in this respect, but to assure size it is necessary that early eggs be produced, for unless the young are hatched early they have no time to develop before the cold days are encountered. The way to produce early eggs is to see that the birds are well fed during the autumn, a time when much of the natural food picked up is apt to be short of nutriment.

ONE PRACTICE IS WASTEFUL

By Burning Corn Stalks Farmer Is Destroying His Land—Much Benefit in Plowing Under.

(By B. E. LARA.)
It always makes me feel sad to see the smoke rising from the burning corn stalks in the field, because the farmer is burning up his land and doesn't know it. How can we expect to burn up stock which the soil produces and put nothing back in the way of humus and then hope to keep our soil in good condition? Maybe I'm wrong when I say that farmers do not know what they're doing, for doubtless some of them do know that it is a bad practice, but burning stalks is easier than discing or cutting them up and they are a nuisance to plow under. Some farmers say there is no benefit in plowing under stalks, but I can't figure it out that way because I do not see how we can go on robbing our soil and keep up the fertility. It costs very little to keep a sheep and a flock of 50 sheep is worth money.

METHOD OF STOPPING LEAKS

Concrete-Waterproofing Work Is Described by Correspondent of the Engineering Record.

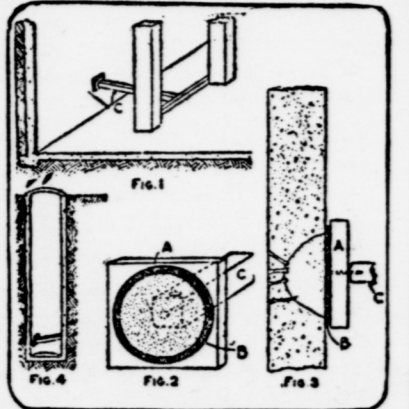

The method of stopping leaks in concrete, described by a correspondent of the Engineering Record, consists in plastering the wet, leaking surface of the concrete with waterproof mortar. The mortar is kept from being washed away by suitable bracing against a properly constructed gasket.

Assuming that a leak is to be repaired in a basement wall, Fig. 1, one foot or more above the floor, the loose material should be scraped or dug away, leaving a saucer-shaped cavity as large in diameter as necessary. If the holes through which the water is leaking are large enough they can be stopped with plugs covered with patches of burlap driven in tightly.

The form is then prepared. In case the diameter of the saucer-shaped hole is six inches, a board, A, Fig. 2, two inches thick and eight inches square, will be required. A one-fourth-inch twisted-burlap rope, B, is tacked on the board and the latter nailed to a brace C.

Enough one-to-two mortar, waterproofed, is prepared, to which has been added, just before leaving the mixing box, bichromate of soda to the amount of one or two per cent. of the cement. This is added to make the mortar quick setting. The mortar is placed on the board in a cone-shaped mass and then thrust quickly and firmly with a twisting motion into the cavity. The brace is driven into place at the same time. The process is illustrated in Fig. 3. The twisting motion aids in forcing the mortar into the smallest crevices and drives away such parts of the mortar as may have been squeezed out between the concrete and the gasket.

A very simple application of the method is shown in Fig. 4. A more difficult application, but not impracticable, is one where it is desired to plaster large areas. A little experience and patience makes the matter easy.

A good waterproofing mixture is made as follows: Concentrated lye, one-third pound; powdered alum, three-fourths pound, which should be mixed in one gallon of water at least one hour before using. All of this mixture is used to one sack of cement, and is poured in at the same time as the water used to temper the mortar.

GARDEN and FARM NOTES

Have you a good crop rotation on your farm?

Success in farm work depends largely on knowing how.
A silo is kept air tight so that the silage will not spoil.
Sorghum hay properly cured is a good roughage for horses and cattle.
Much garden soil seems to need lime, and probably a complete fertilizer.

The best and cheapest way to fight insects is by a good, efficient rotation of crops.

A well established alfalfa field should graze from fifteen to twenty pigs per acre.
Corn-husking time is when tonics to aid digestion are out of sight and out of mind.

It is best to build a round silo, because in the square silos the silage spoils easier.

Corn fodder that is dry and dusty will be improved a little by sprinkling in the manure.

If you want to be really up to date, sweep down the ceilings of your stables and whitewash them.

Sweet sorghums are more palatable and therefore relished better by both horses and cattle than corn stover.

It takes a mellow soil to grow corn, and you can make the soil mellow before planting time by plowing now. While considerable is known about the value and use of alfalfa for grazing, much remains to be determined. In pasturing alfalfa it must never be overstocked, as the animals will injure the crowns and the plants will die.

Sorghum seeds ground have been found to be worth about ten per cent. less than corn for milk making purposes.

For best results the alfalfa pasture must be mowed at least three times a year because at certain times it begins new growth from the root.

Clean Fence Corners.
Fence corners full of dead weeds make fine hibernating places for all kinds of bugs which will get busy with your crop in the spring.

Record of the Weather.
A record of the weather kept carefully in a diary is both useful and interesting for future reference.

There Was a Reason.
"What has the coal dealer taken his ad for?"
"We gave him a little free reading notice and he is sore."

"I should think he would be pleased?"
"Well, you see, it was this way: The article was written to read—Our representative called to see Mr. Soandso yesterday, and found his yards well stocked with coal. While Mr. Soandso is on the job, there is no danger of a fuel famine."

"Nothing wrong about that?"
"No, but the linotype made 'fuel famine' read 'fool famine.'"

Why Consider Them?
"I think the school teachers in this town ought to get more money than they do."
"What put that kind of an idea in your head?"
"Why should we expect the people who are educating our children to work for $70 or $80 a month, when we pay our chauffeurs at least $100 and furnish them with board and lodging besides?"

"But what does school teaching amount to, anyhow? Look at most of the teachers. They ain't got nothin' but education."

Needed Only One More.
The clock struck the hour, and the university chimes pealed forth on the early morning air.
Rambo had been making a night of it, but was on his way home, with some assistance from Baldwin.

Feeling in his pocket for a stray coin, he started up the steps of the University building.

"What now?" asked Baldwin.
"I dunno 'w'at s'oon this is," he mumbled, "but its music m'chins' all ri', an' I need jes' one more drink!"

PROGRESS.

"Who taught you to skate?"
"Well, last year George taught me the year before it was Charlie, and the year before that I taught myself."

A Certainty.
As we journey through life
Let us live by the way;
We'll never be younger
Than we are today.

A Correction.
Two boys stood in front of a Federal street store admiring a display of guns and hunters' trappings.

"Something wrong with that sign," observed one, pointing to a card which bore the words:
"A bird in every shell."
"What's wrong with it?"
"Can't you see?" sniffed the other. "Why it ought to read: 'An oyster in every shell.'"

Sheriff Robinson Loses Fine Horse.

Deputy Sheriff Curt A. Robinson lost a fine horse from lockjaw on Tuesday night. Mr. Robinson has been a severe loser in the last few years, beginning two years ago with the burning of his stock barn containing several head of mules and horses, and since that time has lost several other horses and mules from various causes.

March Winds Hard On Poor Editors.

Lives of poor editors off remind us, honest toil don't stand a chance; the more we work we leave behind us bigger patches on our pants. On our pants once new and glossy, now are patches of different hue; all because subscribers linger and won't pay us what is due. So please be up and doing, send in your mite be it e'er so small, else when the winds of March get through with us, we shall have no pants at all.
